

If every Company you have not conducted business with were to call you, your phone would constantly ring for over 2 years before each company got its 1st call. I believe if you have not conducted business with a person or company for 18 months, THERE IS A REASON! Please do not allow corporate america to force itself on the public while being chaperoned by federal laws.